Barco Video Wall Displays

Within the controlroom environment, TEW have in excess of 15 years experience in the utilisation of large area dynamic displays.

For control room applications, TEW exclusively use Barco products. By partnering one of the world leaders of image processing technology, TEW is able to provide clients with solutions of uncompromising quality and functionality.

In addition this approach ensures TEW have an in depth and intimate knowledge of the products available and the capabilities of each system component. This experience is essential to ensure the maximum performance is exploited from new systems but is also invaluable when maintaining existing systems and configuring future upgrades.

Uniquely, TEW are also able to offer dynamic displays alongside mosaic mimics. Rather than competing technologies, these different display media can offer the client complimentary features whilst extracting maximum value from the available budget.
